

We asked Adrian Gilmore from Alchemy Construct about their use of the Procore to SharePoint integration and how it has helped their company.

Q: What were your processes before using the Procore to SharePoint integration?

A: We used Procore Sync which Procore discontinued

Q: What made you want to change from your previous processes to the integration with SyncEzy?

A: Procore discontinued the project, however there were significant issues with this application.

Q: How did you find SyncEzy?

A: We found it through Procore's integration information as an option.

Q: What were the big wins while you have been using the integration?

A: We have experienced minimal sync issues compared to when we were using Procore Sync. The integration is also very user friendly and easy to use.

Q: Lastly, if you were describing the integration and its value when chatting with a friend, how would you describe it?

A: Having an integration that allows you to work off all documents from your File Explorer on your laptop is a significant advantage and far more efficient than having to use the web base application. It saves each of our staff countless hours a day when managing and accessing files.
